

The career network e-fellows.net awards undergraduate, graduate and postgraduate students the e-fellows.net scholarship

Scholarship holders achieve outstanding results in their studies and internships (domestic and abroad) as well as in their extracurricular activities.

They benefit from excellent networking opportunities and career services, such as exclusive internship and job offers from top companies, or mentoring programs. Further benefits include access to subject-specific research databases and free newspaper/journal subscriptions.

We hereby confirm that

Chongyu Zhang

was awarded the e-fellows.net scholarship in May 2021. The scholarship was extended on the 21/05/2021.
